IS THERE NO ROOM IN THE ANGEL LAND.

[A short time since the writer listened to an interesting discourse by a Methodist preacher, in which he related the following touching incident: A mother who was preparing some flour to bake into bread, left it for a few moments, when little Mary—with childish curiosity to see what it was—took hold of the dish, which fell to the floor spilling the contents. The mother struck the child a severe blow, saying with anger that she was always in the way. Two weeks after, little Mary sickened and died. On her death-bed, while delirious, she asked her mother if there would be no room for her among the angels. "I was always in your way, mother—you had no room for little Mary! And will I be in the angels' way?" The broken-hearted mother then felt no sacrifice too great could she have saved her child.]

Is there no room among the angels
For the spirit of your child?
Will they take your little Mary
In their loving arms so mild?
Will they ever love me fondly,
As my story books have said?
Will they find a home for Mary—
Mary numbered with the dead?
Tell me truly, darling mother,
Is there room for such as me?
Will I gain the home of spirits,
And the shining angels see?

I have sorely tried you, mother—
Been to you a constant care;
And you will not miss me, mother,
When I dwell among the fair;
For you have no room for Mary—
She was ever in your way,
And she fears the good will shun her;
Will they, darling mother, say?
Tell me—tell me truly, mother,
Ere life's closing hour doth come,
Do you think that they will keep me,
In the shining angels' home?

I was not so wayward, mother,
Not so very—very bad,
But what tender love would nourish,
And make Mary's heart so glad:
Oh! I yearned for pure affection,
In this world of bitter woe;
And I long for bliss immortal,
In that land where I must go;
Tell me once again, dear mother,
Ere you take the parting kiss,
Will the angels bid me welcome
To that world of perfect bliss?

[From Dicken's All the Year Round.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN.

A NEW AND TRUE STORY TOLD OF THE LATE PRESIDENT.

During the summer of the most disastrous and doubtful year of the late American war, the Colonel of a New Hampshire regiment lay for some weeks extremely ill of camp fever, near Hampton Roads in Virginia. Hearing of his critical condition, his wife left her Northern home and after much difficulty, made her way to his bedside. Her cheerful presence and careful nursing so far restored him that he was in a short time able to be transferred to Washington.

In the Potomac river the steamer in which the invalid officer, Colonel Scott, and his wife had taken passage, was sunk in a collision with a larger vessel in the night time. The crew and nearly all the soldiers on board were rescued or saved themselves; but amid the horrible confusion of the scene, Colonel Scott became separated from his wife, and she was lost. The Colonel was picked up in the water by the crew of the larger steamer, and under his direction every effort was made to discover his wife, or rather her body, for all hope of finding her alive was soon abandoned. The sad search was fruitless; it was resumed in the morning, the people along the shore, humane confederates, lending their aid. But the gray, sullen river refused to give up its dead, and the young officer, half frantic with grief, was compelled to go on to Washington. Within a week, however, he received word from below that the body of the lady had been washed on shore; that those good country people, generous foes, had secured it, cared for it, and were keeping it for him.

It happened that just at that time imperative orders were issued from the War Department, prohibiting all intercourse with the peninsula—a necessary precaution against the premature disclosure of important military plans. So it was with some misgivings that Colonel Scott applied to Secretary Stanton for leave to return to Virginia on his melancholy duty.

"Impossible, Colonel," replied Mr. Stanton, firmly; "no man can have leave to go down the river, at this time, on any private mission whatever. Our present exigencies demand the most stringent regulations; and I hope I need not say to you that no merely personal considerations should be allowed to interfere with great national interests. Your case is a sad one; but this is a critical perilous, cruel time. 'The dead must bury the dead.'"

The Colonel would have entreated, but the busy Secretary cut him short with another "impossible," from which there was absolutely no appeal. He went forth from the presence, and returned to his hotel, quite overwhelmed with grief.

Fortunately he was that afternoon visited by a friend, to whom he told the story of his unsuccessful application and sad perplexity, who immediately exclaimed, "Why not apply to the President?"

The Colonel had but little hope, but acknowledging that the plan was worth trying, drove with his friend to the White House.

They were too late. It was Saturday evening, and Mr. Lincoln had gone to spend Sunday at Soldiers' Rest, his summer retreat. This was but a few miles from town, and the Colonel's indomitable friend proposed that they should follow him out, and they went.

There was then a popular belief that all the wronged, the troubled and suffering could find a refuge in "Father Abraham's" capacious bosom; a belief that was not far out of the way. Yet there were times when overburdened, wearied, tortured, the patriarch longed to clear that asylum of his forlorn inmates, to bolt and bar and double lock it against the world; times when life became too hard and perplexing for his genial, honest nature, too serious and tragic and rascally a thing by half.

It happened unluckily that the poor Colonel and his friend found the President in one of the most despondent and perplexed moods. He was in a little private parlor, alone in the gloaming. He was lounging loosely in a large rocking chair, jutting over in all directions. His slippered feet were exalted, his rough head was thrown back, his long throat bare—he was in his shirt sleeves. Yes, dear, fastidious English reader, it was genuine Yankee abandon—make the most of it.

He turned upon his visitors a look of almost savage inquiry. There was, indeed, in his unusually pleasant eye, a wild, angry gleam—a something like the glare of a worried animal at bay.

Col. Scott proceeded very modestly to tell his story, but the President interrupted him, to say brusquely, "Go to Stanton; that is his business."

"I have been to him, Mr. President, and he will do nothing for me."

"You have been to him, and got your answer, and still presume to come to me! Am I to have no rest? no privacy? Must I be dogged to my last fastnesses, and worried to death by inches? Mr. Stanton has done just right. He knows what he is about. Your demands are unreasonable, sir."

But, Mr. Lincoln, I thought you would feel for me."

"Feel for you! Good God! I have to feel for five hundred thousand more unfortunate than you. We are at war, sir; don't you know that we are at war? Sorrow is the lot of all; bear your share like a man and a soldier."

"I try to, Mr. President, but it seems hard. My devoted wife gave her life for coming to nurse me in my sickness, I can not even take her body home to my children."

"Well, she ought not to have come down to the army. She should have staid at home. That is the place for women. But if they will go tearing about the country, in such times as these, and running into all sorts of dangers, they must take the consequences! Not but that I am sorry for you, Colonel. As for your wife, she's at rest, and I wish I were."

Saying this, the President leaned back wearily in his chair and closed his eyes, not noticing, except by a slight wave of his hand, the departure of his visitors.

I am not ashamed to confess that my hero tossed restlessly that night upon a pillow wet with manly tears, that he was desperate and resentful, utterly unreconciled to the decrees of Providence and the War Department, and that he thought Abraham Lincoln as hard as he was ugly, and as inhumane as he was ungainly.

Toward morning he fell asleep, and slept late. Before he was fully dressed, there came a quick knock at the door of his chamber, and he opened it to President Lincoln!

The good man came forward, pale and eager, tears glistening in his eyes, and grasped the Colonel's hand, saying, "I treated you brutally last night. I ask your pardon. I was utterly tired out, badgered to death. I generally become about as savage as a wild cat by Saturday, drained dry of the "milk of human kindness." I must have seemed to you the very gorilla the rebels paint me. I was sorry enough for it when you were gone. I could not sleep a moment all last night, so I thought I'd drive into town in the cool of the morning and make it all right. Fortunately, I had but very little difficulty in finding you."

"This is very good of you, Mr. President," said the Colonel, deeply moved.

"No, it isn't; but that was very bad of me last night. I never should have forgiven myself if I had let that piece of ugly work stand. That was a noble wife of yours, Colonel. You were a happy man to have such a noble woman to love you; and you must be a good fellow, or such a woman would never have risked so much for you. And what grand women there are in these times, Colonel! What angels of devotion and mercy, and how brave and plucky!—going everywhere at the call of duty, facing every danger. I tell you, if it were not for the women we should all go to the devil, and should deserve to. They are the salvation of the nation. Now, come, Colonel; my carriage is at the door. I'll drive you to the War Department, and we'll see Stanton about this matter."

Even at this early hour they found the Secretary at his post. The President pleaded the case of Col. Scott, and not only requested that a leave of absence should be given him, but that a steamer should be sent down the river expressly to bring up the body of his wife. "Humanity, Mr. Stanton," said the good President, his homely face transfigured with the glow of earnest, tender feeling, "humanity should overrule considerations of policy, and even military necessity, in matters like this."

The Secretary was touched, and he said something of his regret at not having felt himself at liberty to grant Col. Scott's request in the first place.

"No, no, Mr. Stanton," said the President, "you did right in adhering to your own rules; you are the right man for this place. If we had such soft-headed old fool as I here, there would be no rules or regulations that the army of the country could depend upon. But this is a peculiar case. Only think of that poor woman!"

Of course the "impossible" was accomplished.

To the surprise of the Colonel, the President insisted on driving him to the Navy Yard, to see that the Secretary's order was carried out immediately; seeming to have a nervous fear that some obstacle might be thrown in the way of the pious expedition. He waited at the landing till all was ready, then charged the officers of the steamer to give every assistance and attention to his "friend, Mr. Scott." With him he shook hands warmly at parting, saying, "God bless you, my dear fellow, I hope you will have no more trouble in this sad affair—and, Colonel, try to forget last night."

Away up in a New Hampshire church yard there is a certain grave carefully watched and tended by faithful love. But every April time the violets on that mound speak not alone of the womanly sweetness and devotion of her who sleeps below—they are tender and tearful with the memory of the murdered President.

A BACHELOR friend of ours, passing up the street a few days ago, picked up a thimble. He stood for a moment meditating on the probable owner, when pressing it to his lips, he said—

"Oh, that this were the fair lips of the wearer."

Just as he had finished, a big, fat, ugly colored woman looked out at an upper window and said—

"Boss, jis please frow dat fimble in de entry, I jist drapt it."

JUDY gives this conversation: Magistrate — "Well, Patrick, what have you got to say about stealing the pig?" Patrick—"Well, y'r honnor-r, ye see, it was jist this: The pig tuk upon him to shleep in my bit of a garden for three nights, y'r honnor-r, and I jist sayzed him for the rint!"

A MAIDEN who had suffered some disappointments thus defines the human race:—"Man—a conglomerate mass of hair, tobacco-smoke, confusion, conceit and boots. Woman—the waiter, perforce, on the aforesaid animal."

"WHAT kind of board do you get at your house?" said a friend to Binks the other day. "Well, we pine during the week, and plank down a good deal Saturday," said the cadaverous Binks.

HISTORY OF A WAIF.

An Incident of the Flood of 1847—An Infant floating All Night on the Flood—What became of Her.

During the great flood of 1847, when the Ohio River so far overleaped the bounds of propriety as to come up to Pearl street without any invitation, a great many dwellings located on the river banks were swept away and came floating down the pitiless tide. Loss of life not unfrequently attended these disasters, as when a family, unconscious of their danger, were asleep in their beds when the water rose about their house and lifting it from its foundations bore it away amid the darkness and the turbulent flood.

On the west bank of the Ohio at that time, between Marietta and Pomeroy, stood an humble dwelling occupied by a small farmer and his wife, together with five children, the youngest an infant girl a little over a year old. The river rose during the night while the family were in bed. The rocking of the house as the surging waters claimed it, awoke the inmates, and through great and hasty exertions the farmer was enabled to get all his family, as he supposed, to a place of safety, though he lost everything else. Standing on a little eminence near by he saw, through the gloom of that dreadful night, his house with all its contents yield itself to the grasping and avaricious flood and float down the river, were it was soon lost in darkness. He supposed that all were saved, but alas, it was soon discovered that their infant girl was missing.

In the confusion and excitement of the moment the baby was left asleep on its bed, and had been swept away to destruction with the house. Great was the grief of the parents at the loss of their youngest born, and although due efforts were made to learn whether or not she had been rescued, nothing was heard of her, and it was very naturally supposed she was drowned in the river.

Such, however, was not her fate. A hundred miles below where his dwelling was swept away, some people on the river bank the next morning saw something peculiar floating down on the current. They thought it was the form of an infant. A boat was procured and the object was indeed found to be an infant girl, sleeping calmly and profoundly upon a bed.

She was taken in charge by a family in the vicinity, who took such means as they knew to ascertain to whom the child belonged, but there was no clue to guide them, and soon the little waif that had floated down to them came to be considered as their own child. They adopted her the more readily, perhaps, on account of being themselves childless, and because of their sympathies being so greatly excited by the peculiar circumstances of the case—an infant floating all that night of terrible storm, amid wrecks of bridges and dwellings, protected from danger by an unseen power, that seemed to direct her to their love and care. It may seem strange to the reader that the parents were not found for the child, or the where-abouts of the child made known to them, but it must be remembered that newspapers were not so numerous or accessable twenty years or so ago, as now, and that people did not advertise the lost as they do now. Besides, all the parties were in humble life, and their circle of acquaintance, as well as their means, were very limited.

Meanwhile the waif grew into a beautiful girl, and became as dear to her adopted parents as though she was their own. She had mourned for "mammy" a little time, but ere long all recollection of her early suroundings were but dim and shadowy, and her new parents and her new home became all-in-all to her. A few years and the family moved into Illinois, settling on a farm near Chicago. The man prospered there, and was enabled to give his beautiful Ohio-river foundling an education fitting her graces of person, her amiability and her virtues. A short time ago her hand was sought in marriage by a worthy young farmer in the vicinity of where she lived, consent obtained and the happy day appointed. One day the family were in Chicago purchasing her wedding out-fit. At a dry-goods store a clerk who was waiting on them observed our heroine intently, and seemed singularly affected—so much so as to attract attention.

"Excuse me," he said, in some confusion, addressing the young lady, "don't be offended at my staring at you, but the truth is you are a perfect picture of a sister of mine at home, and I couldn't help thinking you looked just as another sister of mine would have looked, who was swept down the Ohio in a great freshet and lost."

The words attracted the attention of the young lady's adopted parents. The resemblance spoken of, and the incident of the freshet taken in conjunction, could hardly have failed to do that. Explanations followed, and it was pretty satisfactorily concluded that the clerk and the young lady were brother and sister, as indeed, was afterward proved to be the case.

Her parents, too, had emigrated to Illinois, and lived not far from her own home. The families were brought together, and what was before believed to be true, was established beyond question, when the bed on which the child was found was produced, and the garments she wore; for what frugal housewife would not recognize one of her own beds, and what mother would not remember the garments worn by her favorite baby.

There is little more to tell. Our herorine was married to the husband of her choice last week, and had the satisfaction of having her own as well as her adopted parents at the wedding. We don't consider it necessary to give the names of the parties, but the story is a true one, and we have the facts from one who is thoroughly conversant with them.—Cincinnatti Times.

A PARTY of young Americans were standing in front of an ancient saddler's shop, kept by one Hans, a Dutchman. Mischief reigned supreme in their number, and thinking to have some sport with our German friend, one of them opened the door and addressed him: "I say, German, have you any saddles for hogs?" Looking up from his work quite composedly he replied, "Yaw, come in unt dry ven on."

SPIKENARD is a species of fragrant grass, which, when trodden upon, fills the air with sweetness. The ointment mentioned in the Gospels contained the very essence of this perfume. A pound of spikenard ointment was worth three hundred denarii, or about forty dollars. The best kind was produced in India.

THE Detroit Tribune thinks that the new moon, talked of, will not be of much service unless it is different from the old one, which is never seen on dark nights when it is most wanted.

A CLIENT once burst into tears after he heard the statement of his counsel, exclaiming, "I did not think I suffered half as much till I heard you this day."

LEGEND OF A MUSKET.

Mark Twain tells the following story related by a fellow passenger, who, being bantered about his timidity, said he had never been scared since he loaded an old Queen Ann's musket for his father once, whereupon he gave the following:

"You see, the old man was trying to learn me shoot blackbirds and beasts that tore up the young corn and such things, so that I could be of some use about the farm, because I wasn't big enough to do much.—My gun was a single barrel shot gun, and the old man carried a Queen Ann musket that weighed a ton and made a report like a thunder clap, and kicked like a mule.—The old man wanted me to shoot the old musket off sometimes, but I was afraid. One day, though, I got her down, and so I took her to the hired man and told him to load her, because he was out in the field.—Hiram said: 'Do you see those marks on the stock an X and a V—on each side of the Queen's crown. Well that means ten balls and five slugs—that's her load."

"But how much powder?"

"Oh! said he, it don't matter, put in two or three handfulls."

"So I loaded her up in that way, and it was an awful charge—I had sense enough to see that, and started on. I levelled her on a good many blackbirds but every time I went to pull the trigger, I winked and shut my eyes. I was afraid of her kick.—Towards sundown I fetched up at the house, and there was the old man resting on the porch."

"Been out huntin' hev ye?"

"Yes sir, says I."

"What did you kill?"

"Didn't kill any thing, sir—didn't shoot her off—was afraid she would kick (I knew blamed well she would.)"

"Gimme that gun!" the old man said as mad as sin.

And he took aim at a sapling on the other side of the road, and I began to drop back out of danger. And in the next minute I heard the earthquake, and heard the Queen Annie whirling end over end in the air, and the old man spinning around on his heel, with one leg up, and his both hands to his jaw, and the bark flying from the old sapling like there was a hail storm. The old man's shoulder was set back three inches, and his jaw turned black and blue, and he had to lay up in bed for three days. Cholera, nor nothing else can scare me as bad as I was scared on that day.

THE ANTHRACITE COAL REGION.—The anthracite coal region, now so much talked of in connection with the miners' strikes, includes about all this variety of coal in the United States. It is 406 square miles, and 107 lie within the limits of Luzerne county, Penn'a. The total quantity raised in the whole State of Pennsylvania down to 1860 amounted to a little over eighty-three million of tons, of which Luzerne furnished twenty-nine millions. The first company for mining coal was formed in 1792, and it was five years before they shipped to Philadelphia, and this venture consisted of thirty tons. The city authorities consented to take it, and tried to burn it under the boilers of the engines at the water works, but it put the fire out. The balance was broken up and used in the place of gravel over the sidewalks and only the blacksmiths near the mine used the coal for home use. The happy discovery was made by a tavern-keeper. Jesse Fell, of Wilkesbarre, who concluded a good draft was alone necessary to make it burn, and he built a grate of green hickory saplings, placed it in a large fireplace in his bar-room, filled it with broken coal and dry wood under the grate and set it on fire; the flames spreading through the coal, it was soon ignited, and before the wooden grate bars were consumed the success was proved, and hundreds of people flocked to the old tavern to witness the discovery.

A REBUKE.—A good story is told of the celebrated Whitelock and his servant who appears to have been able to preach on occasions as well as could his master. When Whitelock was about to embark as Cromwell's Envoy to Sweden, he was much disturbed in his mind as he rested in Habwich on the preceding night, when he reflected on the distracted state of the nation. A confidential servant slept in the adjoining bed, who finding that his master could not sleep, said:

"Pray sir, will you give me leave to ask you a question?"

"Certainly."

"Pray sir, don't you think God governed the world very well before you came into it?"

"Undoubtedly."

"And pray sir don't you think He will govern it quite as well, when you are gone out of it?"

"Certainly."

"Then, sir, pray excuse me, don't you think you may as well trust him to govern it as long as you are in it?"

To this question Whitelock had nothing to reply, and turning about he soon fell asleep. Great men are probably quite likely to understand God's ability, and overestimate their own.

WE heard from a Sunday school teacher the other day, an illustration of one kind of forgiveness. Improving upon the day's lesson, the teacher asked a boy whether, in view of what he had been studying and repeating, he could forgive those who had wronged him. "Could you," said the teacher, "forgive a boy, for example, who had insulted or struck you?" "Y-e-s, sir," replied the lad very slowly, "I—I could;" but he added, in a much more rapid manner, "I could, if he was bigger than I am."

A SIX-YEAR-OLD boy was asked by his teacher to write a composition on the subject of water, and the following is the production: "Water is good to drink, to swim in, and to skate on when frozen. When I was a little baby, the nurse used to bathe me every morning in water. I have been told that the Injuns don't wash themselves but once in ten years. I wish I was an injun!"

Two children, searching among the hay for eggs, were disappointed at finding the nest empty. Determined not to return without trophies, the little girl seized the nest-egg and started homeward. Her brother followed crying: "Mother! mother! Susy she's been and got the egg the old hen measures by."

MARTIN remarked to his grandmother that old Mrs. Cranshaw had the appearance of a person with one foot in the grave. "Well, really, upon my word," said the antique lady, "I thought I noticed she walked a leetle lame lately."

A LEARNED doctor, referring to tight-lacing, avers that it is a public benefit, inasmuch as it kills all the foolish girls and leaves all the wise ones to grow up to be women.

"I KNOW every rock on the coast," cried an Irish pilot. At that moment the ship struck,—and he exclaimed, "and that's one of them."

BE THANKFUL AND CONTENT.

If there are any grumblers among our boys and girls, it will do them good to be told how much better off they are than many friendless and overworked little ones, the poorest of the poor. At Spitalfields in England, there is a little girl, four years old, who has been earning her own living from the time she was three years of age, in making match boxes. She can make seven hundred boxes in a day, for which her parents receive less than three pence, or about seven cents of our money. This infant, as we may call her, is pale and thin; her quiet face looks old, for she knows little of the pleasures of infancy or childhood. She has never stepped beyond the miserable street in which she was born; she has never seen a tree, or a violet, or a daisy, or even a smooth patch of grass; and the good minister, who has hundreds of families no better off than her's to visit, says she cannot live many years.

In New York city, a short time ago, there was a bright and intelligent, but homeless and friendless boy of fourteen, named William ——, who became at length an inmate of the Lodging House, under the care of the Children's Aid Society. His mother called to see him often; and when she left, it was observed that William would go by himself and cry. The superintendent, wishing to know the cause of her frequent visits, went below and overheard their conversation. "Mother," said he, "if you'd only do what is right, I'd give you money, and help you often; but you'll only get drunk." The mother muttered something in reply, and moved off; and the boy ran to her, called her back, and gave her some money. Then coming back, he sat upon the steps, and cried bitterly. William is now on a farm in Illinois, in the service of a kind hearted man.

Boys and girls, if you have kind parents and a home, or if you have comforts that you can call your own, and especially if your childhood's path, in good part at least, lies in sunshine, be thankful for it, and do not grumble.

HOW NEGROES MANAGE ALLIGATORS.

"Alligators chaw a feller all up," said a little darkey we engaged to carry our baggage from the boat landing at Port Hudson to the miserable shanty called, by its proprietor, a hotel.

"Yes, Sam; but it's a sleepy time, now, for alligators, isn't it?"

"Lor' bress you, mass, you must have cum from de Norf, shuah, to tink the alligators sleeps. Do yer see dat ar great whirlum pool, whar de riber is swinging dem trees and logs, and sich, around and around? Well, de Federal sojers used to go in dar to wash um and de black alligators first boosted dem rite under water without winking at 'em. But dose sojers didn't know how to manage um."

"How would you manage one, Sam?" asked we.

"Why, I do jist as de culled folks do down on old Whetherby's plantation. Ide cotch him by the tip of his tail, and jist make him skull me ashore. Der yer see? When a pusson of color gits an alligator arter him he jist cotches him by de tail, turns it kind a side-wise, so, an de old feller gits mighty mad dough, but he can't bite de feller what's steerin him: An' he has to git in what direction de steerer says.

"White folks cum down here from de Norf, an' de alligators jist eat 'em without stoppin'. But a pusson ob culler, he just take de alligator by de tail an' tells um, Mr. Alligtor, dis nigger wants to cross de riber, lend me yer tail, an' away goes alligator an pusson ob culler ober to de plantation.—If the alligator spreased his 'pinion, I spec he'd say de pusson ob culler was takin' liberties wid a tail de Lord made spressly for de alligators. But de alligators were made afore steamboats nohow."

SAVED HIS WHIPPING.—A little urchin seven or eight years old, in one of our schools where a Miss Blodgett was teacher, composed the following and wrote it on his slate at prayer time, to the great amusement of the boys:

A little mouse ran up the stairs
To hear Miss Blodgett say her prayers.

The teacher discovered the rhyme, and called out the culprit. For a punishment she gave him his choice, to make another rhyme in five minutes or be whipped. So after thinking and blinking, and scratching his head till his time was nearly out, and the teacher raised the stick in a threatening manner, at the last moment he exclaimed—

Here I stand before Miss Blodgett, She's going to strike, and I'm going to dodge it.

He was sent to his seat.

THE preacher at the African Methodist Episcopal Church at Frankford, this city, (so the slander says) recently, was telling his congregation about Moses crossing the Red Sea; and, to make his description quite plain, illustrated it as follows: "S'pose you's de children of Israel, and I's Moses; Jarsey is the Wilderness, and Bridesburg the Promised Land. Well, I brings you down to de ribber, and waves my hand up towards Tacony, and de waters roll backward toward Philadelphy, and we all goes over without gettin' wet. When de last pickininny gets over I waves my hand towards Philadelphy, and I waves my hand towards Tacony, and the water r-o-l-l-s back from Tacony—and dey was fishin' for shad dere de nex' mornin'!"

A SHABBY-GENTEEL young man entered a tradesman's store the other day, with his hands crammed in both pockets, as if they were flush with the rhino. "Mr. J——," said he, "I believe I am indebted to you sixty-two and a half cents, cash, borrowed somewhere about a year ago." "Yes, Sir," replied the tradesman, smacking his lips and holding out his hand to receive the ready cash. "I am glad you have come, for I had almost forgotten it myself." "Oh! I never forget these things," said the fellow; "I like to have all things square; so I want you to lend me thirty-seven and a half cents more, which will make even money."

A BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT.—The sea is the largest of the cemeteries, and its slumberers sleep without monuments. All other graveyards, in other lands, show some distinction between the great and the small, the rich and the poor; but in the great cemetery the king and clown, the prince and peasant, are alike undistinguished.—The same wave rolls over all; the same requiem by the minstrels of the ocean is sung to their honor. Over them the same storm beats, and the same sun shines; and there unmarked, the weak and powerful, the plumed and unhonored, will sleep until awakened by the same trump.

A GOOD joke is told of a young man who attended a social circle a few evenings since. The conversation turned on California and getting rich. Tom—— remarking that if he was in California, he would, instead of working in the mines, waylay some rich miner who had a bag full of gold, knock out his brains, gather up the gold and skedaddle. One of the young ladies quietly replied that he had better gather up the brains, as he evidently stood in more need of that article than the gold. Tom subsided for the balance of the evening.

THE cheapest way to humiliate a person is not to answer his question; the next method causing the least possible expenditure of brain is to call him repetitiously by his christian name.

"WHAT is the difference 'twixt a watch and a fedder bed, Sam?" "Dunno—gin it up." "Because de tickin' of de watch is on de inside, and de tickin' of de bed is on de outside."

TWO Democratic aspirants for the Presidency were shelved by the October elections—Packer in Pennsylvania, and Pendleton in Ohio.

IN New Jersey the Republicans are confident that they will carry the State this year. The Newark Courier does not believe that the frauds in Hudson county and other portions of the State, which last year cheated General Grant out of the electoral vote, can be repeated.

THE Republicans of Ohio achieved a signal victory at the October election, defeating Pendleton, the strongest man the Democrats could have put up, and regaining the Legislature. The majority for Governor Hayes (Republican) is a little over 8,000, the Republicans having 1 majority in the Senate and three in the House. This victory is the more significant, from the fact that it was achieved not only against Pendleton and his green-back heresy, so popular in the West, but the Legislature will have to pass on the 15th Amendment. The issue was made up fair and square—the Republicans advocating Manhood Suffrage and the Democrats opposing. All honor to the Republicans of the Buckeye State.

GEN. Wm. M. Belknap, of Keokuk, Iowa, has been appointed by the President, Secretary of War to succeed Gen. Rawlins. He is forty-two years of age, entered the army at the outbreak of the war as a Colonel, and served with distinction to the close,—having been advanced to the brevet of a Major-General of volunteers. He now holds the appointment of Collector of Internal Revenue for an Iowa district. Although his name was not mentioned in connection with the position, and his appointment therefore occasioned some surprise, his fitness is universally conceded. Gen. Grant, in this as in his other Cabinet appointments, has been controlled by personal knowledge of the capacity and services of the new Secretary.

SAMUEL WOLF made a magnificent run for Sheriff, leading Gov. GEARY 345 in the county, and lacking only 42 of an election. There are hundreds of Republicans and Democrats, who will deeply regret that, after so gallant a fight, he should have been defeated. An examinaton of the official vote published last week shows where the fault, if any there be, must lie. For instance: while the Democrats poll their full vote in Latimore and Franklin, and are but 6 back in Reading, as compared with the election of October, 1868, the Republican vote is short 33 in Latimore, 35 in Franklin and 20 in Reading. These three districts could have secured Mr. Wolf's election. But regrets are useless, and a reference to figures of no account now except as teaching the duty of Republicans at all times to see that a full vote is polled.

IN our comments, last week, on the outrage on Election day in Menallen, we gave it as our impression that in addition to the abstraction of ballots, the box had been "stuffed" with Democratic tickets. We were led to think so by the disparity between the Democratic vote for Township and County officers. On fuller investigation of the facts, we learn that the Democrats had no regular Township ticket, and that a number of them did not vote for Township officers. This explanation, while it does not change the character of the outrage, accounts for the disparity in votes, and relieves the majority obtained by Mr. Klunk from the charge of being based on "stuffing" the ballot-box. The officers of the election secured most of the missing ballots found on the person of the individual who perpetrated the crime, and tallied them with the ballots remaining in the box. As we have no desire to mislead our readers we cheerfully make this correction.

So entirely assured were the Democracy of Pennsylvania and Ohio of electing Pendleton and Packer, that immediately on the closing of the election Tuesday night, telegrams from their State Committees commenced to flash across the wires "glorious victories." This delusion continued for some days, in the face of returns to the contrary. The Democracy of both States were kept jubilant by continued dispatches, claiming victory for their candidates. As late as Thursday evening, Judge Packer telegraphed from Philadelphia to the Chairmen of the County Democratic Committees, announcing his election and enjoining care on their part to see to it he was not "counted out" by the Boards of Return Judges. One of these telegrams, addressed to Wm. McCLEAN, Esq., Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, was placed on the Compiler bulletin board on Friday, (minus the injunction to watch the Return Judges,) and the faces of our Democratic friends were radiant with joy—to be rudely dispelled by subsequent telegrams re-affirming the correctness of the despatches to the STAR AND SENTINEL, claiming Geary's election by over 4,000! We are not sure that there are not some Democrats in the county who still believe that Packer has been elected Governor. It is a bad business to be misled by party leaders before an election—worse, to have the delusion continued when a cause is clearly lost.

EX-GOVERNOR JOSEPH RITNER died at the residence of his son, in Carlisle, on Saturday. He had attained the ripe age of ninety years. During his prime he was one of Pennsylvania's active politicians. He was born in Berks county, of German parentage—of that sturdy, frugal, honest and industrious stock which has contributed so largely to the prosperity of this great State. His early opportunities for education were few, being confined to the winter schools of his neighborhood. Early in life he removed to the county of Washington, and engaged in farming, the occupation in which he had been reared. Soon after his removal to Washington county, he began to take an active part in politics, and was elected by his Democratic neighbors to the State legislature. He served in the legislature for a number of years, and was chosen Speaker of the House in the sessions of 1826 and 1827. As a Speaker he maintained a reputation for promptness and fairness in his decisions, and impartiality in the organization of the committees of the body over which he presided.

In 1829, Mr. Ritner was nominated for Governor by the Anti-Masonic party which had its origin in the Morgan excitement of that period. His vote was small, but he was nominated again in 1832 against George Wolf. Although defeated the heavy vote he received attested the growing strength of the new party and Mr. Ritner's personal popularity. In 1835 he was elected Governor, the Democrats running two candidates, Wolf and Muhlenburg.—Thaddeus Stevens was a leading counsellor of Gov. Ritner, and his administration was distinguished by liberal appropriations to the Canal and Railroad improvements at that time prosecuted with State aid, and by an earnest development of the Common School system, which had been introduced during Gov. Wolf's administration. The Gettysburg Extension of the Wrightsville, York, and Gettysburg Railroad, which figured as the "Tape-Worm" during the exciting Gabernatorial campaign of 1838, was commenced during Gov. Ritner's term. In 1838 he was again a candidate but was defeated by David R. Porter, after an unusually bitter contest, in which large sums of money were wagered on the result of the election in the State and in various counties. So general was this betting and so demoralizing was it in its effects, that it led to the enactment of stringent laws against all kind of wagers on Elections.

On retiring from office, Governor Ritner purchased a farm in Cumberland county, on which he continued to reside almost to the day of his death. Though he was the object of much denunciation and ridicule while Governor, yet he was a man of considerable intellect and force of character. He was known as the "Farmer Governor," and prided himself in this distinction, his integrity of purpose being conceded by all who knew him. At that period, the Agricultural was the dominant interest in the State, and the corruption which in later years has so distinguished Legislative action, as the outgrowth of wealthy monopolies, was unknown. Great corporations, rings of speculators, and corrupt lobbyists, have succeeded, and to-day our Legislatures are hot-beds of corruption, and will continue to be so until the people of all parties resolutely determine to send to Harrisburg none but men of sterling integrity, beyond the reach of its corrupting influences.

UNDER the law, a person removing from another State into this must be here a full year before he can vote. A Radical election judge in Gettysburg, however, in his superior wisdom, decides that less than eleven months will answer. On Tuesday a Radical hailing from Maryland offered to vote. It was objected to. He was put upon oath, and, on close examination, admitted that he had voted in Maryland in November last. The ticket went into the box, nevertheless! Such is Radical regard for law.—Compiler.

MR. JEREMIAH CULP, the Judge assailed in the above paragraph, is one of our most upright and conscientious citizens. We do not know that he needs vindication at our hands. But as the statement of the Compiler does not develope essential facts, it may be well to say that the voter referred has been a citizen of Pennsylvania more than a year, having removed with his family into the State in September, 1868, and was therefore clearly a qualified voter under our laws. However, being in Maryland on the day of the Presidential election, he was allowed to vote there for President without any question as to residence—there being a wide-spread but of course erroneous impression that a citizen can vote for President wherever he may be on Election day. Having thus voted, the question arose whether it invalidated his citizenship in Pennsylvania, acquired by a change of residence the previous September. Mr. Culp held, and we think rightly, that it did not—that his vote in Maryland was simply illegal—and that having been a bona fide resident of Pennsylvania for more than one year, paid taxes, &c., he was a qualified voter. This, we believe, is the whole of it.

THE Legislature of Virginia on Tuesday elected Lieut. Gov. JOHN F. LEWIS and Hon. JOHN W. JOHNSTON United States Senators. Both of them were Union men during the Rebellion and will be able to take the iron-clad oath. They represent the Walker wing of the Republican party. Lewis was a member of the famous Virginia Convention of 1860. In this assemblage, which dragooned Virginia out of the Union, Mr. Lewis steadfastly opposed the secession movement. He voted against the disunion ordinance, and persistently and unyieldingly refused to sign that treasonable document. During the war he maintained his Union sentiments, and since the termination of the struggle he has taken a prominent part in the work of reconstruction, identifying himself with the Conservatives. Judge J. W. Johnston is a counsin of the Rebel General Joseph E. Johnston, and attained his Judgeship by appointment from Gen. Canby.

THE Tennessee Legislature commenced on Tuesday to ballot for United States Senator. In the House Andrew Johnson received 11 votes and in the Senate 32—total 43. Emerson Etheridge received 29 votes, with 33 scattering. The contest is bitter, and doubts are expressed of Johnson's ability to command sufficent votes to elect him.

Two additional ballotings took place on Wednesday, Johnson falling off two votes. The last ballot stood—Johnson 41, Etheridge 29, balance scattering. Necessary to a choice 54. Andy's prospects are evidently waning.

We regret to learn that Mr. SCULL, the Republican candidate for Senate in the Somerset, Bedford and Fulton district, is beaten by 28 votes, brought about by defection in his own county. The district gives Geary 605 majority.

ELECTION FRAUDS IN 1868.

Frequent reference has been made to the enormous frauds engineered by the Democracy of Philadelphia and the mining districts—at the Elections in 1867 & 1868. No honest man doubts that Judge Sharswood to-day holds his sent on the Supreme Bench as the result of these frauds. So transparent and audacious was the conspiracy to debauch the ballot-box in Philadelphia, at the October election in 1868, that, notwithstanding the Democratic city candidates were returned as elected by majorities ranging close on to 2,000, the Union League determined to contest all the city offices, and employed counsel. The investigation has been a tedious and protracted one, involving the necessity of examining under oath an immense number of voters, and has run through an entire year. It has been an expensive investigation; but the Union League thought it due to the integrity of the ballot-box and the purity of future elections, to prosecute the matter, cost what it might.

There was no Registry Law in 1867 and 1868—that of 1868 having been set aside by the Supreme Court, with the aid of Judge Sharswood. The new Registry Law went into effect at the late election, and was designed to prevent the repetition of these frauds. The first fruits are found in a majority of 4,000 for the Republicans in Philadelphia, and an enormous reduction of the Democratic majority in Luzerne county, famous as the scene of the "coffee-pot" naturalization frauds. Luzerne county, on the 12th instant, gave Packer 1006 majority. Last year it gave Boyle 3428! So much for the Registry Law.

Now for the result of the judicial investigation in Philadelphia. It will be recollected that the Democrats carried all the city officers, giving 1838 majority for mayor, 1275 for District Attorney, and like majorities for Receiver of Taxes, city Controller, city Solicitor, city Commissioner, and Prothonotary. On Saturday last the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia, announced the rusult of their protracted investigation, in an elaborate opinion—the result of which is the ousting of all the Democratic candidates, except the Mayor, and declaring the Republican candidates entitled to the offices! The Court find 1,925 fraudulent Democratic votes proved, and throw out that number—while but 119 Republican votes are thrown out, 67 because of irregularity, leaving but 52 which were fraudulently deposited. Mayor Fox retains his position by 58 majority, instead of the 1838 counted for him. The Court declare the balance of the Republican candidates elected, after deducting the fraudulent votes proved and correcting the return, by majorities ranging from 800 to 1400!

Thus, after a full year's laborious investigation, wrong has been rebuked and right vindicated by the civil courts. The Union League deserve the cordial thanks of all citizens who appreciate the elective franchise, and deplore the violence, fraud and outrage, which, under the teaching of desperate political gamblers, of late years bid fair to make a mockery of popular elections and imperil Republican institutions. The next step should be to indict and prosecute to the full extent of the law all parties concerned in the villainy.

BILL MCMULLIN'S roughs and repeaters didn't have fair play in Philadelphia on the 12th inst., by reason of the Registry Law. It is understood they did their best in the 4th Ward, by entering fraudulent assessments and voting on them; but it was a risky business and had to be done cautiously. Now for the result. In 1868, this same 4th Ward, under McMullin's manipulation, returned a Democratic vote of 4,466, giving Seymour a majority of 3,364; while on the 12th, with the Registry Law barring their villainy, they were able to turn out but 2,353 votes for Packer.

WE give in another column, the full official vote of the State, for Governor and Supreme Judge. GEARY's majority is 4,596—WILLIAM'S 8,703. The total vote is 576,508—79,154 less than was cast for President last November. We annex the vote polled in the State by both parties at the election of the last four years:

GRANT AND THE GOLD GAMBLERS.

During the excitement following the defeat of the late conspiracy in Wall street to put up the price of gold, and at a time when very vague insinuations were thrown out in irresponsible quarters concerning the alleged conspiracy of some member of the Administration, Mr. Robert Bonner wrote to General Grant, asking him to make a "brief denial over his own signature of all foreknowledge of the gold combination, in order to relieve himself entirely from all responsibility for the acts of others." Mr. Bonner added that those who knew General Grant personally required no disclaimer; but the great public, whose minds were liable to be warped by the determined and persistent efforts to injure him, would be at once satisfied and quieted by such a statement. The President replied in the following letter, which is published (with the one that drew it out) in last week's number of the Ledger:

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 13, 1869.

Robert Bonner, Esq.:

Dear Sir.—Your favor of the 11th instant is received. I have never thought of contradicting statements or insinuations made against me by irresponsible parties, as those are alluded to in your letter; but as you have written to me on the subject in so kind a spirit, I will say that I had no more to do with the late gold excitement in New York city than yourself, or any other innocent party, except that I ordered the sale of gold to break the ring engaged, as I thought, in a most disreputable transaction. If the speculators had been successful you would never have heard of any one connected with the Administration as being connected with the transaction.

Yours, truly, U. S. GRANT.

P. S.—I have written this in great haste, and without excising judgment as to the propriety of writing it, but I submit it to your judgement. U. S. G.

Commenting upon the above, the New York Tribune of Saturday says:

Nothing prevents this letter from being thoroughly admirable save the fact that there was no occasion for it. The insinuation that the President was in collusion with the gold gamblers never had a fact to lift it above the level of audacious calumny, or a motive save the coarsest sensationalism or clumsy malignity. There was a combination to put gold up. When it assumed dangerous proportions General Grant interfered and crushed it. Thereupon he is charged with having been a member of it! The country knows its President to be incapable of such conduct. If it did not, it would still be able, in so plain a case, to reason that men are not secretly seeking that which they openly, determinedly and effectively destroy. By their fruits ye shall know them.

A CATAMOUNT was killed in Perry county recently, measuring nearly three feet in length.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.—By a law of the last Congress the Freedmen's Bureau is now confined to an educational work among the blacks of the South. The report of the Bureau for the fiscal year just ended will show a steady and gratifying advance in the cause of education there. During the past six months there has been an increase of 380 schools and over 14,000 pupils. At the close of the spring term there were known to be in the Bureau 4,424 schools of all kinds, 9,503 teachers and 256,343 pupils; and besides these a multitude of small schools scattered in rural byways of the South that are not included in this report, and not enrolled on the books of the Freedmen's Bureau. Seventeen of these schools, with 980 pupils, are industrial—teaching labor as well as knowledge. There are also thirty-nine High and Normal schools, with 3,377 pupils training to be teachers. Most of these scholars are teachers in small villages among the blacks during their long vacation. There are six colleges where a fair classical education can be obtained, and at Howard University there are between fifty and 100 scholars in the law, medical and theological departments. Two hundred and ninety two schools are entirely sustained by the freedmen, and 1,289 in part. Of the 250,000 pupils, over 192,000 were slaves before the war. About 759 school buildings are owned by the blacks themselves; while in Washington, Georgetown, Petersburg, Wilmington and other places the free school system is fairly carried out to blacks as well as whites. The educational expenses of the Bureau for the past six months have been $438,000, while the blacks themselves and the various benevolent societies have raised $555,000 more. Since the 1st of January last Dr. Sears has made an arrangement with the Bureau that they should distribute a certain share of the Peabody funds. During the year the Bureau has made a reduction of three quarters of all its agents and of over $760,000 in expenses. Its affairs are now conducted with the closet economy, and its efforts are chiefly confined to introducing schools into the destitute and rural portions of the country, where the blacks are unable to originate schools without foreign aid.

PITTSBURG, like Cincinnati, is agitated over the question of the use of the Bible in the public schools. The discussion in the Smoky City, however, has for a time reached an end. The Roman Catholic Bishop, Father Domenec, an Italian Jesuit, has announced through his chaplain, Father Burke, in the pulpit of the cathedral, that all parents of children attending the public schools at Pittsburg, Alleghany and vicinity, be required to take away their children at once, or receive a public rebuke. Should this command be disregarded, he will excommunicate them, and deny them the privileges and benefits of the Church. This action has arisen from the recent controversies, the Catholics wishing to have the Bible abolished, or to have the Catholic version used. Pittsburg, unlike Cincinnati, has determined to let the Catholics leave the public schools if they wish to, but they cannot escape the education tax, which will be collected in spite of their remonstrances. Bishop Domenec says the Catholics of Pittsburg have now schools of their own, and can educate their own children. Some of the Catholics have demurred at the action of the Bishop, but the majority have sided with him.

GROWTH OF THE SOUTH.—The material growth of the South during the last four years is strikingly shown by the editorials in some of the Southern papers. The official figures at the Department in Washington estimate that the cotton crop of the Southern States this year will be worth $240,000,000, while the total value of the exports of the South is set down at $328,500,000. At this rate the value of Southern products is about $31.32 per head for the entire Southern population. These figures go to show that the South is even now the richest section of the country.

THE last European files received have accounts of the departure of the Empress Eugenie for Venice and the East. The Paris correspondent of the London Times writes that the Emperor seemed depressed. Unless some change be made in the present plan Eugenie will be absent at least two months, for she is to remain in Egypt until after the inauguration of the Suez Canal, on the 17th of November. With her have gone her nephew, the Duke of Huescar, and her two nieces, the young Duchesses of Alba. The Prince Imperial was left behind.

THE Paraguayan President and General Lopez, has only retreated as far as St. Estanislaus, and has there thrown up new lines of defence and prepared for further resistance to the Allies. They are unable to follow up their recent victory, and it appears that they are still far from conquering Paraguay.

THE friends of Mr. Hendricks in Indiana are rather pleased than otherwise at the defeat of Pendleton in Ohio. A despatch from Indianapolis in the Chicago Tribune says: The Hendricks men in this city do not propose to go into mourning over Pendleton's defeat, and some of them appear quite jubilant.

SEVERAL of the chiefs of department bureaus have already completed their annual reports of operations during the fiscal year ending June last, and have forwarded them to the proper heads of departments, and others are now engaged in the same work. The Cabinet officers have made but little, if any, progress in the preparation of their annual reports.

AN Omaha despatch says reports have been received there that the Government surveying party, under Nelson Buck, numbering twelve men, were massacred about fifty miles south of Fort McPherson. The surveying instruments and tools and a portion of the camp equipage owned by the party were found. The reports are credited, but lack full confirmation.

A NEW YORK paper of Saturday says that there remains no doubt that M. Friguet, for the firm of Rothschilds, has been conducting negotiations with the Government for a loan by the great banking firm of all the money the Government may need, at four per cent. A private letter from M. Friguet intimates that he has been carrying on the negotiation with President Grant in person, and he believes the project will be carried out. Washington dispatches, however, contradict the entire story.

FATHER HYACINTHE IN AMERICA.

His Arrival at New York—His Opinions on the Œcumenical Council.

The New York Tribune of Monday says that one of its reporters had an interview with Father Hyacinthe upon his arrival there. The Tribune says:

The conversation was partly of a private and personal character, and not suited for publication. Father Hyacinthe is, however, entirely frank about his intentions and his present situation. He desires it to be understood that he still is a Roman Catholic. He has never been, he says, an Ultramontane; is not now and never will be. But he denies that there is any reason for identifying Ultramontanism with the Catholic Church. He indulges the firm hope that the Council will not, as is commonly anticipated, consolidate the Ultramontane theories and constitute them the creed of the Church; but that, on the contrary, it will leave the door wide open for those who, like himself, have been throughout life the devoted champions of a more liberal construction of the Catholic doctrines, and who in particular have defended the entire harmony between the Christian religion and the great achievements of the civilization of the nineteenth century. Father Hyacinthe expressly declares his full concurrence in the sentiments of Father Lacordaire, who died, according to his own words, "an impenitent liberal," and of Count Montalembert, who recently from his sick bed (which he expects to be soon his dying bed,) sent a stirring letter to the "liberal priests and laymen of Germany," exhorting them to have courage, as without the courageous profession of the liberal Catholics, the "Church would soon be lost in senseless triumph of a fanatical bigotism." Father Hyacinthe expresses his admiration of the wise and moderate words of the German Bishops lately assembled at Fulda, which he thinks cannot fail to exert a most salutary influence. To the question what course of action he would pursue if, as the common anticipation now is, the majority of the Bishops assembled in Rome should expressly sanction the ultra Papal theories of the Roman See, and leave no room in the Church for any who utterly repudiate these theories, the Father replied that this question will not come up for consideration until the resolutions of the Council shall be known. He has no fixed programme yet as to his movements in the United States. He has come over to see and study the country of which he has been so long an ardent admirer. In his addresses he has often in masterly eloquence traced the greatness of this country to its open Bible and its popular and free religion, and he wants to see with his own eyes whether the actual picture corresponds with his idea. After a few weeks or months he expects to return to France; he may or may not go to the Œcumenical Council; beyond that no programme has been laid out for the future. But the strong basis of his religious belief, on which he dwells with particular emphasis, is the belief in the divinity of Christ, in the inspiration of the Scriptures, and the excellence of the Christian civilization of the nineteenth century.

"CAN'T DO HISSELF JUSTICE."—By the way, I am just reminded of an incident that transpired on the day that General Hood concluded to defer his visit to the ton of our thriving little city. A colored man, who had stuck to the rebel army through thick and thin, was in high hopes of being able to march into the city and pay his respects to a lady who belonged to the uppercrust of the colored society; and when he discovered that the besieging army was retreating, he determined to break through the lines, and throw himself upon the mercy of the cruel Yankees. He presented himself to General Thomas, hat in hand, and standing very straight:

"Where are you from?" inquired the General.

"I'se just from de army, sah."

"What army?"

"Mr. Hood's army, sah."

"Where is Mr. Hood now?"

"He's leavin', sah, he's leavin'."

"Ah! I thought Mr. Hood, as you call him, was coming into Nashville."

"No, sah; Mr. Hood thinks he can't do hisself justice in Nashville."—Nashville Correspondent Cincinnati Gazette.

COMMISSIONER Delano decides that the mixing of fine-cut shorts with other kinds of tobacco, whether chewing or smoking, renders the tobacco so mixed liable to a tax of thirty-two cents per pound; that "refuse scraps or sweepings," whether resulting from the manufacture of chewing tobacco or from the manufacture of cigars, to be entitled to the tax of sixteen cents per pound, must be put up and sold substantially in the ordinary condition in which they are made. If they are remanufactured, the tobacco made therefrom is liable to a tax of thirth-two cents per pound; that tobacco prepared by processes generally employed in the manufacture of chewing tobacco, using sweetening, licorice, or sweetened material, is liable to the tax of thirty two cents per pound, though claimed o be sweetened smoking tobacco.

DELEGATES TO THE ŒCUMENICAL COUNCIL.—The Most Reverend M. J. Spaulding, Archbishop of Baltimore and Primate of the United States; Archbishop Allemain, of San Francisco, and Right Reverend Bishops Verat, of Savannah: McGill, of Richmond; Wood, of Philadelphia; Domenec, of Pittsburg; Mullen, of Erie; Gibbons, of North Carolina; O'Gorman, Vicar General of Nebraska, with three priests from Nebraska, and a number of Catholic student's sailed from Baltimore on Wednesday on their way to Rome. The European steamers which left New York on Saturday also took out many Roman Catholic priests, en route for Rome.

A FARMER near Syracuse, in digging a a well, came across a stone figure ten feet two and a half inches high. The shoulders measure three feet, the palm of the hand is seven inches wide, and all the rest of the body in proportion. The question, is it a stone man or man of stone? preplexes the people. Some say it is a petrification, but others bet tens of thousands that it is not. But if it is a statue, how did it get there? Statues are plenty enough near Rome to be buried and unknown, but Syracuse, in New York State, is not supposed to have such a superfluity.

FRIDAY morning the horribly mangled body of a man was found upon the railroad track a mile west of Fairview Station, Erie county. The head was ten rods from the body. Naturalization papers in his pocket showed his name to be Patrick Begen. He had tickets from New York to Leavenworth, and from Erie to Chicago, a lot of photographs, a pistol, silver watch, and $9 in greenbacks. He must have fallen off the train and been run over by that and several succeeding ones.

THE total number of graves of soldiers who died in defence of the American Union now recorded in the printed forms published by the Quartermaster's Department amounts to about 173,000. There yet remains to be printed the records of about 120,000, graves, making an aggregate of 300,000, of which the names of 100,000 occupants will probable never be known.

THE accounts of the Postoffice Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869, have been stated, and there is an unexpected balance remaining from the deficiency appropriation of $1,429,637. The prospect is favorable for keeping the expenditures of the Department for the present year within the limit of the regular annual appropriation.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CARROLL.—Colonel W. A. McKellip, of Westminster, Md., has been nominated for Comptroller by the Republican State Convention of Maryland.

FRANKLIN.—James Kendal, a lad aged [illegible] years, residing with Daniel Bonebreak, near Quincy, was kicked by a horse on Friday, breaking his leg.—Dr. Blair, of Mercersburg, was way-laid on Friday night last by a masked high-wayman, who presenting a revolver demanded his money. The Dr. being unarmed delivered up his pocket-book containing $15.

WASHINGTON.—On Thursday last, Mr. Peter Frownfelder, an aged citizen of Hagerstown, whilst engaged in trimming a tree on the premises of Geo. W. Smith, Esq., fell from it to the ground, a distance of some fifteen feet, and sustained such injuries as resulted in his death on the following day.

YORK.—Abraham Starry, Newberry township, was run over on the N. Central Railroad, near Shrewsberry Station on the 11th inst., and instantly killed. It is supposed he was intoxicated, being a man of intemperate habits and a bottle of whiskey being found with him.—A Young Men's Christian Association has been organized in Hanover, with the following officers: President, George M. Forney; Vice Presidents, Oliver Trone, Dr. Horace Alleman, James Hawethorn; Recording Secretary, M. O. Smith; Corresponding Secretary, Prof. Trimmer; Treasurer, Lewis Grove; Librarian, William T. Helman; Managers, John Bingly, J. W. Sleeder, Daniel E. Trone.

THE GOLD RING.—The New York Times publishes what purports to be a complete expose of the great plot to raise the price of gold, and how and by whom it was worked up. It bears on its face many official ear marks. The narrative shows how persistent Messrs. Jay Gould and Fisk were to entrap President Grant, and how adroitly he evaded the snares of the wily manipulators. How they endeavored to draw General Porter, the President's Private Secretary, into their little game, by informing the General on the 16th of September that they had purchased half a million of gold on his account, and how the General on the 19th wrote to them that he had not authorized the purchase of any gold on his account and did not desire any. How they tried to honeyfugle Secretary Boutwell, and how the Secretary put them off. The statement made by the Times exonerates Gen. Butterfield from all compilicity in the movements of Gould, Fisk & Co., and shows how innocently Mr. Corbin was drawn into their schemes. From the showing made by the author of the exposition Mr. Corbin was the victim of a conspiracy.

THIN fabric and dresses with delicate colors should not be washed with soap. The best fluid to wash them in is rice water, made by boiling one pound of rice in a gallon of water. Reserve a quart of the water for starching, then wash the dress in the remainder. Rinse in clean, or slightly blued, water; then starch the dress in the remaining quart of rice water, and iron quickly.

THE scale on which omnibus traffic is carried on in Paris may be judged from the fact that during the year 1868, the number of persons carried in the vehicles amounted to 120,000,000, or nearly 65 times the entire population of Paris.

A CITIZEN of Belvidere, Ill., one morning last week, discovered a skunk in his pantry, lying asleep on the floor. He procured some chloroform, drugged the animal, and removed him without difficulty.

☞"One may exhaust the domain of medical virtues and medical promises, without finding any remedy, so simply compounded and at the same time possessing such invaluable properties as the "Pine Tree Tar Cordial" of Dr. WISHART It is a common-sense medicine, and will cure, not because of puffery, but because it is a simple and healthful natural agent. The diseases it will cure are those which appertain to disordered stomachs and an unhealthy condition of the blood. Their name is "legion." The Cordial is no experiment: it is a long established and widely circulated remedy, supported by the best testimonials of both patient and physician. Its action is powerfully aided and expedited by a concurrent use of Wishart's "American Dyspepsia Pills," where the nature of the case requires it. At No. 232 North Second Street, consultations may be had free of charge with eminent physicians. For more special claims of the Pine Tree Tar Remedy, we invite attention to our advertising columns, and request the afficted to call or address, as there directed."—Philadelphia.

CAUTION.—Extended success in any department of business justly awakens competition, and owing to defective mental and moral structure, often begets envy. Now these are to be expected and may be met with energy and determination; but not unfrequently the bounds of legitimate rivalries are overstepped, and base, unscrupulous men stoop to use the patronage of others to further their nefarious purposes. With the assistance of science, and by means of industry and honesty, in providing a potent remedy, Dr. Stoever's Old Standard Tonic Herb Bitters have attained unparalleled celebrity, having been before the public for the last thirty years.

Wherever they have entered the sick or complaining household, their effects have even exceeded expectation, and so far surpassed all we have ever claimed for them by circular, card, or otherwise, that the public confidence in the medical qualities of the Bitters is unbounded. We do not fear the competition of the empirical throng who attempt to palm off remedies upon the people, which are not scientifically compounded, and are destitute of available qualities. Their empiricism will be discovered in the end, and the inefficiency of their preparations found out. We would rather be envied for merited success than despised for failure, however ungenerous it may be for man either to envy or despise. Against another and a worse class of individuals, we are forced to take action. We allude to those who take advantage of our popularity, and attempt to gain public favor and confidence by counterfeiting the Old Standard Bitters, barely imitating the label, or making other approaches to its preparation calculated to deceive, and as a matter of course, in so far as they succeed, to bring our excellent Tonic into disrepute. The public are hereby warned against all such imitations. In order to further protect ourselves, and save the afflicted from imposition, we have concluded to change our Label so as ever hereafter to sustain our indentity, and keep the reputation of the Old Standard intact. We incur great expense by so doing, but the end warrants the means. The new label along with the caption, directions and neat ornamentation, will present an excellent steel portrait of C. H. Kryder, the senior member of the firm. This will be the badge of its genuineness, as well as a guarantee of the quality of the Bitters. The label will be duly copyrighted, and thus placed beyond the reach of counterfeiters. By no fault of ours shall the public confidence ever be abused or the reputation of the "Old Standard" be allowed to suffer. None genuine unless signed.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they giv medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord.—No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lung in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs ar a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.—He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

SHARP FROST.—On Wednesday night we had a very sharp frost, the mercury going down below 32°. In the morning ice stood in the shallow pools, while garden vegetation looked black and desolate. The streets yesterday were crowded with the fallen foliage of shade trees.

SALE.—Mr. J. J. Kirk, residing on the Tyson property, between town and the Theological Seminary, intending to leave Gettysburg will sell at Public Sale, on Monday Nov. 1, a lot of valuable Furniture, 4 Shoats, a lot of Hay, Corn, Cornfodder, &c. Also the lease of the house until the 1st of April next.

NEW CLERK.—Mr. NEIDICH, the new County Commissioner, entered on the duties of the office on Wednesday.—There was a sharp contest for clerk, it being understood that Mr. WALTER was to be ousted. J. JEFFERSON MYERS, of this place, carried off the prize. WM. McCLEAN, Esq., was re-elected Counsel and Dr. J. W. C. O'NEAL Physician to the Jail.

THE THREE EVENING STARS.—The brilliant evening star, the planet Venus, sets near the west-southwest portion of the horizon about eight minutes after seven o'clock. It is situated in the sign of 'Libra.' At half past six o'clock the planet Mars appears about two degrees or four diameters of the moon on the west, while the planet Saturn is nineteen degrees nearly due east of Venus. The bright red star some seven degrees southwest of Saturn is the lunar star Antares.

CORRECTION.—In putting Mr. McPherson's last letter in type, the compositor made him say, "while in Paris I visited, on Sunday, the tomb of Lafayette and the First Napoleon." The manuscript reads "on the same day," (speaking of the visit to the Imperial Library,) not Sunday. Although in Europe, Paris especially, Sunday is but little recognized, Mr. McPherson, with his American education as to the sanctity of the day, has, during his European tour, uniformly abstained from travel and sight-seeing on the Sabbath. This correction is due both to our colleague and our readers.

REBEL DEAD.—The Hollywood Memorial Association, of Richmond, Virginia, have inaugurated a movement to remove to that place the Rebel dead from the battle-field of Gettysburg. A Committee, consisting of three prominent ladies, Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Mrs. George W. Randolph and Mrs. J. L. M. Curry, have issued an appeal for material aid to enable the Association to carry out the project. We hope the movement may be successful. These dead lie scattered for miles over the fields around Gettysburg, and their removal would not only be a source of consolation to surviving relatives, but a kindness to our Farmers.

SOLD.—J. S. Taughinbaugh has sold his property, in Hampton, to John A. and James Dicks, $4,010.

Henry Meals has sold his property on the Millerstown road, beyond Willoughby's Run, to John Butt, Sr.—10 acres, at $1,200 cash.

Jerome Noel has purchased from John Myers and John McMaster, 50 acres of land, with improvements, in Mountpleasant township, at $45 per acre—formerly property of Peter Noel, deceased.

Peter K. Smith, as Administrator, recently sold the property of Charles C. Smith, deceased, in Mountpleasant township, to James Smith—10 acres with improvements, for $925.—Compiler.

FIGHT WITH A BEAR.—The Chambersburg Valley Spirit says that Mr. Linn, residing near Concord in that county, had an encounter with a large bear on Saturday last. He saw the bear near his residence, and, procuring a rifle, shot at him. The bear fell and Mr. Linn supposed that he had killed him. On going up to him, however, the bear sprang to his feet, and, as quick as a flash of lightning, struck Mr. Linn senseless to the ground. He jumped upon the body, attacked it savagely and bit one of Mr. Linn's arms severely. In the mean time, other persons approached with dogs and dispatched the bear. Had it not been for this timely assistance, Mr. Linn would doubtless have been torn to pieces. As it was, he was pretty severely injured. It is said that there are a large number of bears on the mountains above Concord, having left the Allegheny to feast themselves on chestnuts which are very plenty in that neighborhood.

EMMITTSBURG.—On Saturday last Massassoit Tribe No. 41, I. O. R. M., had an Anniversary celebration in Emmittsburg, with a parade in the streets, followed by a collation, and an address by Dr. Shaw, of Uniontown, Md. Delegations were present from Cayugas Tribe No. 31, Gettysburg, and from the Waynesboro and Uniontown Tribes—the latter being accompanied by a Brass Band. Everything passed off pleasantly.

On Tuesday evening last about twenty-five members of Gen. Reynolds Lodge of Good Templars, of this place, paid a visit to Emmitt's Lodge of Good Templars, in Emmittsburg, and had a pleasant time. They were cordially received by the members of Emmitt's Lodge, and returned home much gratified with the trip. Both Gen. Reynolds Lodge and Emmitt's Lodge are in a prosperous and growning condition.

PARKTON AND MANCHESTER RAILROAD.—We are always glad to notice public improvements—especially the progress of railroads. The citizens of Baltimore and Carrol counties appear to be determined to have railway facilities greater than they had in the past, since other sections of the country have them.

On Teusday of last week, ground was broken, formally, by Messrs. McGuckin, Showers, & Co., Contractors of the above named railroad, which is now being surveyed and located by Joseph S. Gitt, the Chief Engineer of the Parkton and Manchester Railroad. As stated heretofore, the road starts at Parkton on the Northern Central Railroad, in Baltimore county, to the town of Manchester, in Carroll County.

The occasion of breaking ground was signalized by a procession and collation, with music, speaking, &c., at the village of Beckleysville, which is about midway between the places above named. It is said that a large concourse of persons of both sexes, and of all ages and sizes, had assembled. Large tables were erected and luxuriantly spread with an abundant collation. All partook to their satisfaction, and there was an abundance left—there being about five hundred persons present.

After the collation, the company repaired to the seats near the speakers' stand, where a number of persons addressed the audience, upon matters of internal improvements,—of course, railroads in particular.

At the conclusion of the speaking, the entire company formed in procession and marched a short distance to the railroad line, and proceeded with the formal ceremony of "breaking ground," after which all repaired to their homes, no doubt, well pleased with the days proceedings.

On Friday, however, of the same week, the "breaking of ground" was performed in good earnest, at Parkton, when Mr. Gitt, the Chief Engineer of the road, raised the first shovelful of earth, at the right place, followed by others, and then started about twenty men to work, and now the work goes bravely on.

The completion of this enterprise will no doubt develope an important portion of the State, and enable farmers and others residing there to find a convenient and profitable market. The road being in connection with the Northern Central lumber, coal, lime, ore, and other articles along the line can be procured and shipped off, and at much less cost than they have heretofore been able to do. The people, it is said, are alive to it as a pet project and in full hopes of its speedy completion.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The second State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Pa., will meet at Williamsport on Tuesday November 2d, at 7½ o'clock P. M., and close on Thursday evening.

Delegates from all Y. M. C. Associations are expected, and ministers and others interested in the cause, where there are no Associations in existence, are urged to be present. Christian Young Men are requested to consult together and appoint representatives. A cordial Christian welcome is assured to all who will attend. Arrangements for reduced fare on all the principal lines will probably be made.

Delegates should be provided with credentials and those intending to be present should at once forward their names to Thomas K. Cree, Pittsburgh, or to the following authorized Committee, for this part of the State, from whom further information may be obtained.

IMPROVED MORNING GLORY.—The famous Morning Glory Stove, so popular as a parlor and office stove, has sometimes been objected to for use in chambers and by families needing but one fire, because not adapted to heat water, &c.—This difficulty has been overcome, and last Monday we saw one of the improved Morning Glories in operation at the Wareroom of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, on Carlisle street, which seems not only to obviate objections but to meet every desired want. It is nothing more or less than the ordinary Morning Glory, with an Oven about 15 inches in diameter attached, and ingeniously arranged dampers by which the heat can be thrown around the oven at pleasure, and making it as hot as the ovens of the best cooking stoves. Water can be boiled, pies baked, and even meat roasted as readily as in a cooking stove. This contrivance, while preserving all the qualities of the Morning Glory as a heater, adapts it for the sick chamber, or use in small families requiring but little cooking. tf and Cheapness of our Clothing is the only secret of our great success.

THE PERFECTION OF

READY-MADE CLOTHING.

BEST MATERIALS.	We use none but "all wool" goods every piece of which is well sponged, and carefully examined.
WELL CUT.	Our cutters of Ready-made Clothing are such as could work in other establishments on Custom Work; their work combines comfort with style.
WELL MADE.	Our hands are supplied with the best trimmings, and we see that they use them, and every article is thoroughly tested before being put into stock.
GUARANTEED.	Every garment sold is accompanied with a legal guarantee, holding us responsible for the correctness of all the representations made.
LOWEST PRICED.	It is conceded that our large business and many other advantages enable us to sell lower than any other house. We invite a fair comparison of prices.

FORTY THOUSAND

CASES OF GOODS

were shipped from our house in One Year, to families, clubs, and merchants, in every part of the country, from Maine to California, amounting in value to over

ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

Our facilities for transacting this immense business are better than ever before. We have agents in all the principal cities to purchase goods from the Manufacturers, Importers, and others, for CASH, and often at an immense sacrifice from the original cost of production.

Our stock consists, in part, of the following goods:—

SHAWLS, BLANKETS, QUILTS, COTTONS, GINGHAMS, DRESS GOODS, TABLE LINEN, TOWELS, HOSIERY, GLOVES, SKIRTS, CORSETS, &c., &c.

SILVER-PLATED WARE, SPOONS, PLATED ON NICKEL SILVER, DESERT FORKS, FIVE-BOTTLE PLATED CASTORS, BRITANNIA WARE, GLASS WARE, TABLE and POCKET CUTLERY, in great variety.

ELEGANT FRENCH AND GERMAN FANCY GOODS, BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS, the newest and choicest styles in Morocco and Velvet Bindings.

MOROCCO TRAVELLING BAGS, HANDKERCHIEF AND GLOVE BOXES, &c.

GOLD AND PLATED JEWELRY, OF THE NEWEST STYLES.

We have also made arrangements with some of the leading Publishing Houses, that will enable us to sell the standard and latest works of popular authors at about one-half the regular price:—such as BYRON, MOORE, BURNS, MILTON, and TENNYSON'S WORKS, in full Gilt and Cloth Bindings,—and hundreds of others.

ONE DOLLAR FOR EACH ARTICLE.

We do not offer a single article of merchandise, that can be sold by regular dealers at our price. We do not ask you to buy goods from us unless we can sell them cheaper than you can obtain them in any other way,—while the greater part of our goods are sold at about

One-Half the Regular Rates.

We want good reliable agents, in every part of the Country. By employing your spare time to form clubs and sending us orders, you can obtain the most liberal commissions, either in CASH or MERCHANDISE, and all goods sent by us will be as represented, and we guarantee satisfaction to every one dealing with our house.

Agents should collect ten cents from each customer and forward to us in advance, for Descriptive Checks of the goods we sell.

The holders of the Checks have the privilege of either purchasing the article thereon described, or of exchanging for any article mentioned on our Catalogue, numbering over 350 different articles,—not one of which can be purchased in the usual way for the same money.

The advantages of first sending for Checks are these:—We are constantly buying small lots of very valuable goods, which are not on our catalogues, and for which we issue checks till all are sold; besides, in every large club we will put checks for WATCHES, QUILTS, BLANKETS, DRESS PATTERNS, or some other article of value, giving some members of the club an article for about one quarter of its value.

"In every order amounting to over $50, accompanied by the cash, the Agent may retain $2.00, and in every order of over $100, $3.00 may be retained to PAY THE EXPRESS CHARGES.

This offer is more especially to assist Agents in the Western and Southern States, but is open to all customers.

COMMISSIONS.

Agents will be paid ten per cent, in Cash or Merchandise, when they FILL UP THEIR ENTIRE CLUB, for which below we give a partial list of Commissions:

FOR AN ORDER OF $30, from a club of Thirty, we will pay the Agent, as commission, 28 yds. Brown or Bleached Sheeting, Good Dress Pattern, Wool Square Shawl, French Cassimer Pants and Vest Pattern, Fine Large White Counterpane, etc., or $3.00 in cash.

FOR AN ORDER OF $50, from a Club of Fifty, we will pay the Agent, as Commission, 45 yds. Sheeting, One pair heavy Wool Blankets, Poplin Dress pattern, Handsome Wool Square Shawl, Silver-Case Watch, etc., etc., or $5.00 in cash.

FOR AN ORDER OF $100, from a Club of One Hundred, we will pay the Agent, as commission, 100 yds. good yard-wide Sheeting, Coin Silver Hunting Case Watch, Rich Long Wool Shawl, Suit of all Wool French Cassimer, etc., etc., or $10 in cash.

We do not employ any Travelling Agents, and customers should not pay money to persons purporting to be our agents, unless personally acquainted.

SEND MONEY ALWAYS BY REGISTERED LETTERS.

PAIN KILLER.

PAIN is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand, to be used on emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agony of pain, or the depressing influences of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in PERRY DAVIS' "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the polar regions, or beneath the intolerable and burning suns of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. And by it suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally, in cases of Cough, Cold, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sores, and Sprains, Cuts, Stings of Insects, &c., and other causes of suffering, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day. Beware of Counterfeits and worthless imitations. Call for Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, and take no other. Sold by Druggists and Grocers. [Oct. 15—4w

THE SONG OF LABOR.

Hurrah for honest labor!
What though its face be brown,
Its hands shall wear the sceptre,
Its brow shall wear a crown.

Hurrah for honest labor!
Let cowards shrink from toil;
The man who works with nature
Is king upon the soil.

Hurrah for honest labor!
It rolls the world along;
Its heart is true and loyal,
Its eye is clear and strong.

Hurrah for honest labor!
Its royal paths we tread;
And only bow to toilers,
Who work with hand or head.

Then work away with heart and hand,
Until your task is done;
There's work for you and me to do,
There's work for every one.

GARDEN WORK FOR OCTOBER.

The work in the garden for this month is as follows:

Winter Spinach.—The Spinach previously seeded and in good growing condition should now be carefully weeded, and the plants thinned out to about four inches apart. If the soil is not very rich top-dress after hoeing with well-rotted barn-yard manure—after the hard frosts set in sprinkle over the bed a light dressing of straw, chaff, eaves or any other like material as a protection of the plants through the winter.

Lettuce.—Set the lettuce plants, if they are now large enough, out in a warm border. See that the ground has been well spaded and well manured. In setting out the plants let them stand six inches apart, and when cold weather sets in protect them with a light covering of brushwood or straw.

Setting Out Cabbage Plants.—Early in the month, choosing for this purpose mild, moist weather, prepare a bed for cabbage. Manure it heavily, for the soil cannot be made too rich, and choose for the bed a southeastern exposure if it is to be had. After spading rake the soil thoroughly and then throw it up into paralell ridges from twenty-seven inches to three feet apart. Make these ridges from four to six inches high. Beat down the slopes of the ridges firmly with the back of the spade. When this is done set the plants about midway down the slope of north side of the ridge. Let the plants stand six inches apart. Towards the close of November strew stable manure or loose straw along the valleys between the ridges, and to about the height of the plants stand on the slope of the ridge. Leave all thus through the winter. As soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring draw down the earth from the crest of ridges, into the valleys with a hoe so as to level the entire surface. Thin out the plants as they advance in growth. Keep the soil loose and free, and free of weeds as the season advances, and as the remaining plants begin to expand draw earth about their roots. As the third and last working, give them a final hoeing and earthing up.

Cauliflower and Broccoli.—Work these carefully during the month, and keep the soil loose and clean. Towards the close of the month commence to hill them.

Endives.—Tie these up for blanching.

Asparagus Beds.—Mow all off and clean thoroughly the asparagus bed as soon as the haulm begins to turn yellow. Fork lightly, and finish by top-dressing the beds liberally—first with well-rotted stable manure, and over this a mixture of salt and ashes, the proportions being three parts of salt to one of ashes.

Celery.—Earth upon celery from time to time, and water freely in dry weather.

Small Salading.—The final seeding for the season may be made during the first half of the month.

Rhubarb.—Rhubarb seed sown during this month will advance the plants a year over seed sown in the spring.

Shallots, Garlic and Chives.—All these roots may be planted out this month.

Horse Radish.—Plant out a bed of this wholesome condiment early this month. The crowns of old roots will speedily strike and when once they get possession there will be no difficulty whatever in perpetuating them.

Raspberries, Gooseberries and Currants.—New plantations of these may now be set out. Plant the Raspberries four feet apart in the rows, and the gooseberries and currants at a distance of six feet apart. Of the latter, cuttings may now be taken and planted in a warm border, ready to set out the following autumn or the spring succeeding it.

THE BEST WASH FOR TREES.—October is the best period for the autumn scraping and washing of fruit trees. The insects which hide in the bark and crevices of the trees have by that time retired to their winter quarters and can be easily destroyed. There is nothing equal as wash with which to scrub the trees than a preparation of say one pound of whale oil soap to a large bucket of water, well dissolved. There is nothing more nauseous to insects than this.

It will lay "cold" everything that we have tried it on but the curculio—that, however, cares no more for the mixture, even though accompanied with sulphur, lime-water and tobacco juice, than if it were a gingerly dose of pure spring water. But rose-bugs, and the steel-blue grape-bugs, surrender to its power incontinently. Every farmer and gardener ought to have a supply of this soap on hand for use whenever necessary.

CRACKED LIPS.—Avoid wetting the lips, especially when you are out of doors, and you will not often be troubled by their cracking. When the mischief is done, a good method of treatment is to touch them frequently with a piece of sulphate of copper (blue vitriol) which will cause some smarting but will cure them. It should be borne in mind that this salt is poison, when taken by any considerable quantity, but the small amount which could be absorbed when used in this way is harmless.

Those who are liable to cracked lips on slight provocation, may prevent them by using the rose lip salve which is made by melting fine white, wax in olive oil, and adding, when nearly cool, a few drops of oil of roses. It may be colored by tying a little alkanet in a cloth and boiling it in oil before adding to it. Of course this salve must be stirred constantly while cooling, else the wax and oil will separate.

GOOD ROLLS.—The famous Parker House Rolls are made in the following described manner: Make a hole in two quarts of flour, and pour in one pint of curd milk that has been boiled, with a cap of butter melted in it. Add a quarter of a cup of sugar, and half a cup of good yeast. Let it stand without mixing two or three hours. Salt to taste. Then knead it, and set it to rise a few hours, then mould it, and set to rise again in the pans before baking. The rolls require about fifteen minutes to bake in a quick oven.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper.—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet in grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rake out, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

John Deardorff, Sen.,	Henry Culp,

Also, WIRE-TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rakes. Also, PLOUGHS, FANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOSEPH WIBLE & SONS, Gettysburg, Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain.—It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KEELER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Hamborough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

CLEANER AND BAGGER,

With the latest improved Triple-geared Horse Power, either Gear or Belt.

This machine has successfully competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever produced; in fact, the only Separator and Cleaner ever before the public to give general satisfaction.

The machine is conveniently arranged for hauling and threshing, being permanently fixed on two wheels. One man can easily move or shift it about, so that it is not half the trouble on a barn floor as a common thresher and shaker. It is also easily put in operation. It is simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact and cleanly to work by while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separators.

Farmers can rest assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers that are using them we must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want.

The following are a few of the persons who have used this machine, well known, and to whom the public are referred for further information:

Wm. J. Peters, Flora Dale, Adams co., Penna.
Wm Kobler, near New Oxford, " "
John D. Pfoutz, near Gettysburg " "

Daniel Peters, Benderville, " "
John Waltman, McSherrystown " "
Michael Fiscel, Mountjoy twp., " "
John Small, McSherrystown, " "

Repair Castings for the above machine will be kept by the Agent, and also by Ephraim Fiscel, near Gettysburg.

A Word to the Wise!

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

Renner's Chemical Fertilizer!

THE importance of a quick, active and durable Fertilizer, adapted to the soil of our county, is acknowledged by all Farmers. Having satisfied myself, after long study and careful experiment, that F. C. RENNER'S surpasses all others in adaptedness to all kinds of soil, I have purchased the right for Adams county, and am prepared to fill orders for it promptly and on reasonable terms. It is no humbug, but by a number of our Farmers, and is admitted by all who have it to be the best in the market, and the cheapest. I am prepared to furnish this Fertilizer in any quantity, and will deliver

Chemical Fertilizer

HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY TRIED

In any town or village in the County, when ordered in not less quantity than a TON. I manufactue it for sale at $50 per ton without bags, or $55 in bags. This fertilizer is composed of the best fertilizing chemicals that can be had. I use no oil of vitriol; it does not contain any ammonia, therefore I do not use it. Neither do I use lime nor ashes.

THE OBJECT OF THE CHEMICAL FERTILIZER

is to introduce a fertilizer that will last for a series of crops—not only for one. It contains sufficient animal matter to mature the grain and make it ripen early, while the ammonia forces the growth. I expect to manufacture a large supply this winter for the spring crops, and therefore invite farmers and the public generally to give it a trial on all kinds of Grains and Vegetables.

CAUTION.—I hereby give notice that Farm Rights hereafter sold, unless signed by me, are infringements on my Right, and will be prosecuted and dealt with according to law, from which there is no appeal.

All orders will be promptly attended to by addressing
